Help Secure Your Retirement With The FlexMax

A fixed-indexed annuity that offers:

Growth opportunity

You can allocate your money to interest strategies that may help you accumulate more assets for retirement.

Protection from loss

Regardless of market conditions, you won't lose the money you contribute to your annuity unless you take a withdrawal or surrender your contract during its early withdrawal charge period.

Guaranteed retirement income

When you're ready to turn the money you've accumulated in your annuity into retirement income, you can select from a variety of payout options, including an income stream that will last for the rest of your life.

Annuity Basics

Simply put, an annuity is a contract between you and an insurance company. It is a long-term financial vehicle that's designed to protect and grow your money, and then provide a stream of income during your retirement. In fact, other than pensions, annuities are the only products that provide guaranteed lifetime income.

Great American Insurance Group is committed to offering annuities that are simpler and easier to understand – helping to achieve your goals with no surprises.

Pick Your Path To Growth

Fixed-indexed annuities offer multiple interest strategies to help you build your savings.

Indexed strategies offer you the unique opportunity to earn interest based, in part, on market performance without the risk of market loss. A declared rate strategy allows you to grow your money at a fixed interest rate that is set at the beginning of each one-year term.

You have the flexibility to choose the strategies that are right for you. We know your needs may change over time, so you can revisit your strategy selections at the end of each one-year term.

How Do Indexed Strategies Work?

It's simple. Funds in an indexed strategy earn interest based, in part, on the positive performance of an external index, such as the S&P 500[®]. Interest is credited on the last day of each one-year term and is guaranteed to never be less than 0%.

The FlexMax[®] offers point-to-point and monthly averaging indexed strategies.

The point-to-point strategy compares the closing value of the index at the end of a one-year term to the closing value on the first day of the term. If the result is positive, interest is credited. If the result is negative, the credited interest rate is 0%. The amount of interest credited at the end of the term is limited by a cap. A cap is the maximum interest rate that will be credited for a one-year term.

The monthly averaging strategy compares the average of the closing index values at the end of each month-long period during the term to the closing index value on the first day of the term. If the result is positive, interest is credited, subject to the cap. If the result is negative, the credited interest rate is 0%.

Any interest credited to your account value is locked in at the end of each one-year term and cannot be lost due to future market performance.

Balancing Growth And Protection

Let's say you purchased a FlexMax[®] with $100,000 and allocated your entire purchase payment to a point-to-point indexed strategy with a 4.5% cap.

The example compares your $100,000 purchase payment to a $100,000 IRA invested in stocks that make up the S&P 500[®] Index. Going back to 2000, you can see how your annuity account value would have grown, while your principal and earnings were protected from market loss.

It assumes the 4.5% cap applied during the entire period and you did not change your strategy allocation during that time.

How Your Rate Is Calculated

When index performance is positive, interest is credited, up to the cap. When index performance is flat or negative, the credited interest rate is 0%.

	S&P 500 Index return	Interest credited to your annuity (with 4.5% cap)
 2000	-10.14%	0.00%
 2001	-13.04%	0.00%
 2002	-23.37%	0.00%
 2003	26.38%	4.50%
 2004	8.99%	4.50%
 2005	3.00%	3.00%
 2006	13.62%	4.50%
 2007	3.53%	3.53%
 2008	-38.49%	0.00%
 2009	23.45%	4.50%
 2010	12.78%	4.50%
 2011	0.00%	0.00%
 2012	13.41%	4.50%
 2013	29.60%	4.50%
 2014	11.39%	4.50%
 2015	-0.73%	0.00%
 2016	9.54%	4.50%
 2017	19.42%	4.50%
 2018	-6.24%	0.00%

While past performance does not guarantee future results, with a fixed-indexed annuity, you can be certain that your money will be protected against loss if you hold your annuity through the early withdrawal charge period.

The hypothetical fixed-indexed annuity in this example uses the S&P 500® Index and the annual point-to-point method with one-year terms beginning on December 31 to calculate the indexed interest rate for each term. Actual terms begin on the 6th and 20th of each month. A different term start date would affect the performance of the hypothetical fixed-indexed annuity and result in higher or lower annuity account values than those shown in this example. The term for a purchase payment begins on the next start date after we receive that purchase payment.

For purposes of this example, we assume $100,000 is allocated to a strategy with a 4.5% cap. However, during the period shown in the example, the actual caps that we applied to our fixed-indexed annuities varied from term to term and ranged from 3.25% to 10%. Caps are subject to change. Indexed interest is credited only on amounts held for the entire term. This example assumes no money is withdrawn from the annuity. Early withdrawal charges will apply if money is withdrawn during the early withdrawal charge period. For contracts with a market value adjustment feature, that adjustment will apply if money is withdrawn during the early withdrawal charge period.

When you buy a fixed-indexed annuity, you own an insurance contract. You are not buying shares of any stock or index.

Additional Benefits

Tax treatment that allows faster growth

You don't pay taxes on the interest your contract earns until you start receiving payments or take a withdrawal, so your money can grow at a faster rate than it would in a taxable product.

Guaranteed retirement income

With the average retirement lasting 18 years, you may worry about outliving your savings. The FlexMax[®] provides the opportunity to turn the money you've accumulated in your annuity into a steady stream of retirement income. Depending on which payout option you choose, income benefit payments are made for a specific number of years or for life.

Protection for your loved ones

No one likes to think about it, but part of achieving peace of mind is knowing what would happen to your money if you pass away unexpectedly. With the FlexMax, any death benefit is paid directly to your beneficiaries, which allows them to receive your financial legacy without the cost and delays of probate.

This information is not intended or written to be used as legal or tax advice. It was written solely to provide general information and support the sale of annuity products. You should seek advice on legal or tax questions based on your particular circumstances from an attorney or tax advisor.

For qualified contracts, the full amount withdrawn is generally subject to income tax. For other contracts, only the gains are subject to income tax. If you are under age 59½, the taxable amount is also generally subject to a 10% federal penalty tax.

Consider Your Liquidity Needs

The FlexMax is intended to be a long-term product. However, you will have access to a portion of your money each year with penalty-free withdrawals.

During the first contract year, you may withdraw up to 10% of your purchase payments. After the first contract year, 10% of the account value on the most recent contract anniversary may be withdrawn.

It's important to note withdrawals in excess of this amount may be subject to early withdrawal charges. Early withdrawal charges end after seven years.
